

THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH SCHOOL OF LAW CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL LEGAL EDUCATION PRESENTS

THE 29TH MCLEAN LECTURE ON WORLD LAW:

EXAMINING ARBITRATION

Presented by

PROFESSOR JAN PAULSSON

Michael Klein Distinguished Scholar Chair Emeritus, University of Miami School of Law

Democracy can be quite unattractive at times. Two famous books by equally renowned scholars are Democracy and Its Critics (by Robert A Dahl) and Democracy and Distrust (by John Hart Ely). Why should arbitration be any more immune to complaints? What does it mean to love arbitration, and why should anyone love it? This lecture invites us to consider some fundamental propositions that can help us answer the two questions.
